

Dear Cesare Frustaci:

Thank you for your time and dedication to the Museum. It was an inspirational story to read that you and your mother survived the harsh treatments of the concentration camps of the Holocaust. It was a tremendous story to read that your mother searched for you until there was nowhere else to search. She showed me the purpose of endurance, hope, and faith. To maintain all those qualities during the brutal circumstances of the Holocaust was very brave and admirable. I thank you very much for sharing your story. We are the last generation to hear your story, and I would be proud to say that I heard an inspiring story directly from the hero. Thank you very much for your time in educating us a bit more.

Warmly,
Genesis
